

Shine on

Contributing to South Africa's social transformation is the range of Fairtrade wines, Place in the Sun.

A portion of the proceeds made from the sale of these Fairtrade wines are ploughed back into the community and social initiatives for wine farm staff. South Africa is one of the world's foremost producers of Fairtrade wines – and this range falls under the Zonnebloem umbrella, being made in the same cellar with winemaking input by the same team so quality is beyond question.

With its bright rays on the label, Place in the Sun is both a literal and metaphorical reference to the sun and its empowering properties. Keep an eye out for it. You could contribute to making a difference to a wine farm community's life simply by buying and enjoying a bottle of wine.
